The Maria P. was bound from Naples to LaJalata. She carried a crew of seventeen and the passengers numbered 173. She was calling at Genoa en route to her destination.

The Dominion house did not prorogue Saturday afternoon as arranged because Senator Melville, conservative, moved the six months' hold to the Hudson's Bay railway bill dividing the subsidy of $80,000 in two. A debate followed and the bill had a close shave. The second reading is set for to-day. Many think the road as good as killed because the provision allowing it to start from Gladstone has been struck out and the company forced to go on from the end of the forty miles already built.

Ben. he left for the east. Thos. Anderson, late land agent at Edmonton, received a complimentary address from a number of the residents of St. Albert and Morinville settlements. The address and reply were published in the South Edmonton News.

The Edmonton cricket club played Fort Saskatchewan at Agricola on Saturday. The following composed the Edmonton team: J. F. Adamson, captain, J. D. Campbell, F. A. Hardisty, T. W. Chalmers, E. A. Trahar, R. A. Kelly, St. Geo. Jellett, J. Looch, W. McMahon, T. W. Lines, N. Jackson.

The Upas returned on Friday forenoon from a trip up the river to Frasers timber limit with raftsmen and supplies. She left on Tuesday afternoon and reached the railway at Goose Encampment eighty miles up the river on Thursday morning. While in shallow water there her rudder was injured, and on the return trip about Stony rapids it gave out and was replaced by a sweep.

The Edmonton brass band will meet Rev. Father Fouquet of Calgary, at the station on his arrival on Monday evening's train. A reception will be tendered him, and addresses presented by the C. M. B. A. society, St. Jean Baptiste society, and the Edmonton band. Rev. Father Fouquet was in charge of St. Joachim's church, Edmonton, for some years and is now coming to conduct a retreat of the teaching sisters of St. Joachim's mission.

The estate of Thomas Coghlan worth some half a million dollars in Ireland has been in chancery for some time and has finally gone to a number of indirect heirs, in default of the direct descendants being found, the owner having left no will. A. Coghlan of Edmonton has recently become aware of the facts, and claims to be the direct heir and grandson of the Thomas Coghlan in question, but owing to the death of his father, which occurred two years ago, he does not feel that he could make good his claim; which had his father been alive could have been proven without difficulty.

J. F. McNAMARA was in town from Wetaskiwin on Saturday and reports business good at that point.

not enough rain, but on the whole the outlook never was better. Vegetables are doing particularly well.

Calgary Herald: An outfit of settlers from Washington Territory passed through town this afternoon. They came from Walla Walla and Palouse counties and number 13 souls in all. They have quite a few horses with them. Their destination is Edmonton.

They started from Washington on the 17th, May. There are two or three more outfitts on the trail behind them.

COMMANDANT BOOTH, Brigadier Clibbon and Col. Stitt, of the Salvation army, will arrive on to-night's train. The Salvation army corps will meet them at the station. The Fire Brigade band will be at the band stand and will march with them from there to the Salvation army barracks. They will then proceed to Robertson hall where the visitors will speak on the social reform schemes and farm colony of the Salvation army.

THE South Edmonton News of last issue complains that its issue of the previous week did not reach Fort Saskatchewan on time, and finds a great deal of fault with the post office people on that account. As far as the Edmonton office is concerned the Fort Saskatchewan mail leaves Edmonton at 7 o'clock on Friday morning and the News on that occasion did not reach the office from South Edmonton until about ten o'clock, three hours too late to catch the mail.

A REPORT was current in town last week that a man was arrested recently by the police some place in the Red Deer district charged with selling liquor to Indians. When arrested he had in his pockets a quantity of coarse gold which he said he found on the Little Red Deer. An attempt was made by some speculative individuals to get him off in consideration of his showing them where he got the gold. But the law would not bend to that extent and the secret is in jail with its keeper.

THURSDAY's train brought in one car of flour from Portage la Prairie for Larue & Picard, one car of flour from Winnipeg for E. Brossard St. Albert, one car of flour from Winnipeg for F. M. Robertson, one car of flour from Winnipeg for H. W. McKenney St. Albert, one car of lumber from New Westminster for J. J. Duggan, one car of binding twine from Winnipeg for Thos. Bellamy, one car of lime from Kananaskis for K. A. McLeod, one car of settlers' effects from Macleod, one car of tea from Vancouver to the order of the Bank of Montreal, and three way cars.

J. LEARY, who has been acting as Canadian immigration agent in Ireland for the past two years has returned to Manitoba. His report is not by any means hopeful. The results so far have been small and the prospects are not bright for the future. He thinks that if a Canadian steamboat line called at Queenstown in the south of Ireland it would help, but as the Allen line does now call at a port in the north, it does not seem as though that would make much difference. The fact is that the people who might come to Canada do not want to leave Ireland and the people who want to leave Ireland will not come to Canada.

MOOSOMIN SPECTATOR: Two bands of settlers and their outfitts passed through on Monday, travelling overland, one band going from Minnesota to Edmonton, and the other band going to Winnipeg from Edmonton.

They met here, and each party tried to persuade the other to turn around and accompany them, the Winnipeg bound travellers saying that it was useless going to Edmonton as there was snow there all the year round, while the Edmonton bound people thought there was no place like Edmonton, and told the other band that Winnipeg was dead, and that there was no work to be had there. The matter ended by both parties getting mad and each going their own way.

CHAS. SANDISON left last week for the McLeod river by way of Lake St. Ann and the Jasper house trail, to mine gold.

The Macleod is the principal tributary of the Athabasca on its south side between Edmonton and the mountains and has been known to be gold bearing for many years, although it was very little worked.

As the bar on which Messrs. Sandison and Alexander worked on the Athabasca this spring is below the mouth of the Macleod, it is just possible that the gold came down the Macleod. It is said, however, that the gold mined on the Athabasca this spring while on the Macleod is reported to be in even finer and lighter flakes than that on the Saskatchewan. This difference would indicate a different source. Another outfit went to the Macleod some time in May, and no word has been heard from them since.

ALTHOUGH it is known that a great many men have gone out to the Athabasca within the past month to dig for gold, the actual number can only be guessed at and is generally put into the hundreds. Nearly all have gone by way of Lac la Nonne, and as yet none have come back, although the return journey once they reached the Athabasca, would be very easy—down the river to the Landing and then out by wagon road. It may be that the water is so high that they can do nothing but wait for it to fall, and on the other hand the digging may be so good that no one cares to leave. A rumor comes from Riviere Qui Barre that the miners are at work on the high bars making good pay, and expecting to do better when the water falls. The report is said to have been brought in by an Indian who had been working for some miners at $5.00 a day. If that is the case the natural inference is that the miners had struck a very good place.

THE following from the Montreal Trade Bulletin is encouraging for those engaged in hog raising and pork packing in this district: As will be seen by reference to our London letter, which appears in another column, English provision dealers have such a high opinion of Canadian bacon that they are pushing it for all it is worth by displaying cards in their windows with the inscription, "Best Canadian Bacon"; so that in spite of the glut of the Danish product which has pushed aside Irish bacon to a large extent, Canadian is still gaining in favor with English consumers. In fact buyers on the other side are taking Canadian bacon in preference to Danish, although they have to pay shillings per cwt. more for it. As the Danish venture in hog products has not proved a profitable one for producers, it is thought that another year will be a large falling off in the supplies of Danish bacon.

COLIN FRASER, trader of Chipewyan, sold R. Seccor on Friday the largest lot of fur ever bought into Edmonton. The price paid was $20,000. The lot was not only large, the fur was of extra fine quality. It included 36 silver foxes, 78 cross foxes, 124 red foxes, 41 fisher, 72 otter, 812 beaver, 33 wolverine, 106 bear, 3016 marten, 582 mink, 115 lynx, 7 wolf, 3100 rat and 48 lbs. of castorum. The unusual abundance of marten this year, with the comparatively high price at which they sell, adds greatly to the figures of the fur trade this season. Of silver foxes, which are always a rarity, there seems to be more than usual. Mr. Fraser's lot included two that were almost perfectly black and of course would be particularly valuable on that account. The silver, frequently called the black, fox is about the same size and build as a red fox. The general color is black except a white tip on the end of the tail. But on the hind quarters there is a greater or less proportion of white hairs scattered amongst the black, giving a silvery appearance to the fur there. The greater the number of these white hairs the less valuable the fur and the less the number the more valuable. A pelt of perfectly black fur, if in good condition, is worth a fabulous sum in Russia, where the silver fox is the distinguishing fur worn by nobility and royalty.

A RRAFT of lumber for the Edmonton Saw Mill Co. arrived on Saturday.

THE Clover Bar ferry scow which was built by John Walter was taken down the river on Saturday.

G. R. F. KIRKPATRICK, Mrs. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Cowie, went to Lake St. Ann on Saturday on a camping trip.

Rev. G. W. DEAN, Mrs. Dean and children, Miss Osborne and Miss Taylor went to Cooking lake to-day on a camping trip.

W. M. DEWAN's flat boats left for Battleford on Saturday taking 75 tons of coal, and will be used for the industrial school and partly for sale.

THE pic-nic at Sturgeon river on Thursday was a grand success, notwithstanding the shower under which the picnickers had to eat their dinner. The base ball game was the great attraction and ended disastrously for the town team. The pic-nic was a success financially as well as in attendance. The ice cream tent realized $9.30 and a collection in aid of the Union Sunday school, under whose auspices the pic-nic was held, amounted to $9.50.

TO PEACE RIVER.

The expansion of the fur trade this season and the discovery of gold on the Athabasca brings up once more the question of a wagon road to the Athabasca at Fort Assiniboine, to Slave lake and Peace river. At present the route to Peace river is by land, and water and consequently as there is no public transport business carried on along it, those who wish to use the route must be prepared with both boats and teams. While such a route may be the best for those who are circumstanced so as to take full advantage of it, it certainly is a great impediment in the way of people of ordinary means going to and from Slave lake and Peace river. It is particularly a drawback to the driving of cattle or horses from the one region to the other and being very round about is a great hindrance to winter travel. The present route is by wagon road 90 miles, a little east of north to the Athabasca Landing. Then by boat or Hudson's Bay steamer up the Athabasca in a northerly and then westerly direction about 80 miles, to the mouth of Slave river, then up Slave river 35 miles in a northwesterly direction by boat, as the steamer cannot go up Slave river; then lengthwise of Slave lake about 75 miles, a little north of west, still by boat; then about 60 miles northwesterly to Peace river by cart road, a total distance of 340 miles. A wagon road would run in a northwesterly direction all the way, following the present cart roads from Edmonton to Lac la Nonne, 40 miles, and from Slave lake to Peace river 60 miles, and the old pack trail by way of Fort Assiniboine and Slave lake to make connection between those two roads, about 160 miles. This is the only part of the road that would require to be made, and of that distance the 40 or 45 miles from Lac La Nonne to the Athabasca is a present necessity on account of the mining on that river. For although the miners can reach the Athabasca at the Landing by a road from Edmonton, that point is 100 miles below where the gold is found and means 100 miles of tracking or poling up the river. Whereras the proposed wagon road would strike the Athabasca in 80 miles from Edmonton and right where the mining is being done. The opening of the through wagon road would bring Slave lake and Peace river as near Edmonton in winter as they now are to Athabasca Landing; and the cutting off of 80 or 90 miles on a winter trip is a very important advantage. It would make possible the driving in and out of stock which is now almost impracticable and is the greatest bar to the development of the country. As the country is not mountainous and as the whole route was practicable as a pack trail it is not likely that a passable wagon road would cost any very large sum.

THE MANITOBA QUESTION.

Toronto Work. The long-looked-for announcement has at last been made. On Monday Mr. Foster stated in effect, in the commons, that the government, finding, as they think, in the reply of the Manitoba government some ground for hope of an amicable settlement of the difficulty, and being most unwilling to take any action which could be interpreted as forestalling or precluding such a settlement, has decided to introduce no remedial legislation this session, but to enter at once into communication with the Manitoba government in respect to the subject. He further announced that another session of the present parliament will be called, not later than the first Thursday of next January, and that, if the Manitoba government fails to make a satisfactory settlement in the meantime, the Dominion government will be prepared "to introduce and press to a conclusion such legislation as will afford an adequate measure of relief to the minority, based upon the lines of the judgment of the privy council and the remedial order of the 21st of March, 1892." This decision, it is at once apparent, rests the hope of the government wholly upon the contingency of some satisfactory action by the Manitoba authorities. The hope, in its turn, is based upon certain words in the reply, in which it is alleged that the action of the Dominion government had been taken without proper knowledge of the state of the educational affairs of the province under the discarded school system which they are now ordered to restore, and a suggestion made that some steps should be taken to gain the information needed. Mr. Foster admits that there may be difference of opinion as to the meaning of this clause of the reply, but most readers will, with fancy, see in it only a special hint that if the government had taken the trouble to acquire the information referred to, the remedial order might not have been passed.

The utmost that the government can reasonably hope to gain from this action is an extension of time in which to search further for some outlet which has not yet appeared. Few persons, we believe, whether within or without parliament, see any reason to believe that Manitoba will make any important departure from the policy suggested in the reply. Certainly neither the people nor their representatives in the legislature will be likely to do anything in the way of compromise or concession, so long as the threat of remedial legislation is held over their heads. Nor could that threat be now withdrawn without an implied confession of error, or of inability, such as would be fatal to the prestige of the Dominion government. The Manitoba ministers and people will not be slow to see that the English speaking provinces may be relied on to back them up in their refusal to obey the remedial order, and in their readiness to resist by the use of all constitutional means the attempt to re-impose upon them a separate school system, which the Protestant majority so unanimously discarded a few years ago, and by the same process to deprive them of the autonomy in educational matters which, in common with all the other provinces, they so highly prize. On the other hand, it seems hardly likely that the French ministers will persist in their resignations, or the French conservatives in their threatened revolt against the government, seeing that they have in the government announcement a distinct pledge that the remedial legislation they demand, or some satisfactory equivalent, will be given them within six months. As has been said by different press correspondents, it is the opponents of remedial legislation in any form who have most cause to be dissatisfied with the government's action in giving such a pledge. It is by no means unlikely that a resolution, based on this view of the case, may be introduced, before the close of the session either by Mr. McCarthy or by the opposition leader, expressing disapproval of this pledge. Such a resolution would place in a serious dilemma the thirty-nine or forty conservative members who have declared their intention to oppose the government should it introduce a remedial bill this session.

Toronto Week: Whatever view one may hold as to the necessity and importance of the Dominion senate, there is scarcely room for more than one opinion as to the way in which the power of appointment is being used, according to the authority of the premier himself. The wonder is that the members of both houses, and on both sides of the houses, do not see the gross impropriety of permitting seat after seat to remain vacant, not only for months but for years, until as many as ten at one time are without occupants. As it is to add emphasis to the impropriety and incongruity of such a state of things, the premier frankly informs a supporter, whose name had become in some way connected with one of the vacancies, that there is no one of the whole that has not been long since promised. Liberal conservatives who have faith in the government can hardly fail to see what is involved in such a statement, though Sir Mackenzie, strangely enough, seems to have made it without a suspicion that anybody could see anything wrong in it. Apart altogether from the sinister uses to which a corrupt prime minister, should such an one chance at any time to get into office, could easily put the power of appointment, provided he is at liberty to leave the office vacant as long as suits his purpose, it is evident that such a way of dealing with it goes far to confirm the arguments of those who maintain that the senate itself is but a fifth wheel to the national coach, and so utterly useless and unnecessary appendage. If it were necessary either for purposes of revision of legislation, or as a balance wheel to maintain the equilibrium between the larger and the smaller provinces, it would follow that all vacancies should be promptly filled, in order that the country as a whole might have the full benefit of its legislative wisdom, and each province the full safeguard that its equality of representation is intended to afford.

DRAZTONVILLE.

Robert Caldwell will commence building the school house for Pine district next Monday.

Mr. Close's youngest child had the misfortune to fall from a wagon and break its arm. It was doing well at last accounts.

Dominion Day was spent well at this place. There was speaking and singing in the forenoon and base ball, horse racing and foot racing in the afternoon. A dance at night.

Anyone wishing to put up a dry goods and grocery store, will do well to come to this place. It is on the Beaver lake trail, and about half way between Beaver lake and Fort Saskatchewan. A store is needed here, as the people are getting tired of going so far to town.

LACOMBE LINKS.

Mr. Youmans, teacher at the reserve a few miles north of here, stopped here over night with Mrs. Youmans and their little girl on their way down to the camp meeting at Lacombe.

Mr. Puffer, our butcher, has purchased half a lot next the Dark Bro's. carpenter shop and intends moving the building which he now occupies on to it, where besides a shop he will have suitable living rooms.

Wm. Barris has taken over the post office and will take charge of it hereafter.

The bay a few miles around here is pretty short, there having been so much stock on the sloughs, but some of the Buffalo lake people say it is a good length and plentiful out there.

The band of Hope picnic to Gull lake was well patronized, although the road was bad, there being about 250 out, and with few exceptions, those who were there seem to have thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The lunches, of which there was a plentiful supply were served together, and the boats added greatly to the pleasure.

Five young men living about ten miles out of here, who just came in this spring, three from Scotland and two from England, who were living together until they each got a house of their own up, met with a serious loss recently. The shack which they were occupying was burned to the ground with its contents. As they had brought clothing etc., with them to last for several years their loss was heavy, being estimated at about $3,000.

The Blind man Sunday school picnic at Jackfish lake on Tuesday last was well attended and an enjoyable time spent.

A number of friends were invited to the residence of Mrs. Glass on Tuesday evening, where a very pleasant evening was spent in games, music, etc., besides partaking of an excellent lunch of ice cream, fruit, etc.

July 18th, 1895.

GENERAL NEWS.

Henry M. Stanley has been elected to the British parliament as a Unionist.

Wheat dropped 20 cents a bushel in Chicago in five weeks. It had recovered 3c., at last accounts.

A severe drought has been reported in parts of the counties of Bruce, Grey, Wellington and Huron in Western Ontario. The Montreal Trade Bulletin says that the reports are much exaggerated.

Battlefield Herald: Heavy crops of red, black and white currants, gooseberries, raspberries and strawberries are maturing in the Herald garden notwithstanding the injury wrought by late frosts and subsequent hail storms.

Battlefield Herald: Owing to the excessive supply since the Northwest began to export it, the price of seneca root has declined in the eastern markets, where it is quoted at 17c. to 19c. for the best. Our woods are full of pickers who are making good wages, and large quantities are being brought into town every day. The prevailing price here is about 18c. a pound.

Dispatches to the St. Paul papers on July 15, from Big Stone, Grant, Swift and Lac qui Parle counties, Minnesota, and several counties to the west of these in South Dakota, are to the effect that the prospects for wheat are not so good by 33 per cent. as ten days ago on account of the drought. There has been no rain in that section for eighteen days.

No' West Farmer: One dealer at Brandon lately refused to buy no less than five samples of farmers' butter in a single week, on account of its being flavored with French weed. In the old settlements where the cultivated area is confined to a strip along the river sides, cows are driven as fast as possible over the infested area till the old grass of the prairies is reached, but on idle wheat fields, where French weed once gets hold, dairying will soon be an impossibility unless more vigorous action is taken by the noxious weed inspectors.

In parliament on July 12th Martin showed that Scott & Leason were getting $7,000 for carrying mail from Battleford to Saskatoon twice a week, a distance of 90 miles. In 1890 tenders were asked for. Thomas Dewan, a responsible contractor in Battleford, offered to do the work for $3,120. The tender of Scott & Leason for $7,000 was accepted. In 1894 no tenders were asked for, Scott & Leason again getting the work, although Dewan was ready to do the work on twenty-four hours' notice. Scott & Leason still have the contract. The only excuse which the government gave to Martin was that Leason & Scott did the work satisfactorily. This, Mr. Martin said, was a silly excuse. In the house on Friday Mr. McMullen read a statement showing the amount of money drawn from the public treasury during the past eight years by the following ministerial papers: Toronto World, $7,855; Toronto Mail, up to 1889, and then the Empire, $14,142; The St. John Sun got $88,036; the Regina Leader got $30,279; the Yarmouth Times, $22,608; the Charlottetown Examiner, $21,377; the Halifax Herald, $62,603; the Moncton Times, $83,908; the Montreal Gazette, $44,408; the Quebec Chronicle, $32,365.

Winnipeg Commercial July 13: A hopeful situation continues in view of the continued favorable crop outlook. An encouraging feature is the improvement in sales of farm lands. The Canadian Pacific Railway land department reports sales largely in excess of last year. Sales now are mostly in Manitoba, whereas last year remote points in the territories, particularly in the Edmonton district, were in favor. Advice from British Columbia of late are very encouraging and the depression there appears to be passing away. The lumber trade there is greatly improved and business appears to be reviving generally. The coast markets are overstocked with Manitoba dairy butter of both this and last season's make. There is no use in sending anything but choice creamery butter to the coast.

The Banque Du Peuple of Montreal suspended payment for ninety days on July 11th. A Free Press despatch of July 15th, says: To the uninformed things appear to be going on as usual at the Banque Du Peuple. The doors are open and the clerks are busy, and there is an air of bustle about the building that cost the bank some $500,000.

There is every reason to believe that the note holders and depositors as well will not lose anything by the suspension of the bank, except from the inconvenience occasioned. The bank to-day is open to allow the payment of notes, but no cash is going out of the bank. Speaking of the institution's affairs to-day, Mr. Jacques Grenier, the president, said he believed the bank would again resume business.

This impression, however, does not obtain among the best posted business men of the city, who generally agree the bank will go into liquidation at the end of the time of suspension, ninety days. Mr. Grenier further stated that had the other city banks advanced, say $4,000,000, which was requested of them the bank would have been able to go on without suspension.

The following on the butter question from the Montreal Trade Bulletin is worth careful consideration by manufacturers and shippers of butter here and elsewhere: "An English firm, replying to the letter of a Montreal house, which upholds the storing of fresh June butter in refrigerators until the fall, tells the latter concern in pretty plain language that Canada can keep its old frozen butter if it chooses, and that England will have none of it as long as it can get what it wants of fresh goods from other countries. The English firm referred to says that creamery butter that has been frozen for any length of time falls flat when it gets on the counter of the English cutter, that its fresh bloom has departed and its merchantile value depreciated. This bears out what the Trade Bulletin has all along endeavored to inculcate, namely, that in order to cultivate an export butter trade, Canada must ship its goods while the bloom of their freshness is upon them, or go out of the business. The bombastic tall talk of doing a yearly export business of $6,000,000 to $7,000,000 in butter on any other line is unmitigated 'poppycock.' Refrigeration for a certain period, however, is absolutely necessary in order to convey summer butter to market in a fresh and perfect condition; but the holding of June creamery until the fall and winter is an exploded theory as far as the export trade is concerned. About eighteen or twenty years ago England, to a great extent, was dependent upon Canadian butter during the winter months, even though the bulk of it was old and stale; but things have vastly changed since then, New Zealand and Australia, having come to the front and produced sufficient butter to keep English consumers well supplied with fresh stock all through the non-producing months."

A SAD OCCURRENCE.

On Friday morning last, while Mrs. John Gainer, of South Edmonton, was making soap, she set down beside her a can of lye, diluted with water, when Walter, her second youngest boy, feeling thirsty came along and caught up the vessel, and before he was noticed drank a swallow of the deadly liquid. As soon as he swallowed the mouthful, he felt the burning sensation, and his crying gave the alarm. The mother at once gave him sweet oil, and Dr. Baldwin was immediately sent for; but the fatal work was done. All that affection and skill could do to save life was done, but without avail. After a painful lingering, amid the fluctuations of hope and fear of the anxious parents and friends, the tender life succumbed, and this morning about five o'clock death terminated the sufferings of the dear little lad. Little Walter was a fine, healthy, sprightly boy, aged 2 years and 3 months and of far above average vigor of body and mind. The sorrowing parents and brothers of the deceased have the heartfelt sympathy of their many friends, on both sides of the river, in their sore bereavement. The funeral will take place to-morrow (Tuesday) forenoon. The burial will be in the Edmonton cemetery. A brief service will be held at the house at 10 a. m. before leaving for the cemetery. The occasion will be improved in an appropriate discourse by Pastor A. McDonald next Sunday morning in the Baptist church, South Edmonton.—Communicated.

THE EXCURSION.

Some thirty pleasure seekers took advantage of the excursion on the Upas Saturday to view the scenery up the river. The steamer left the lower ferry landing about half past one, and the upper ferry about ten minutes after two. The weather was beautiful when they started, but before the boat reached M. Groat's the rain was coming down in torrents, and although the heavy downfall did not last long the weather was showery all the way up to the Big Island. The scenery up the river does not differ materially from that at Edmonton; flat and cut bank alternating on each side all along.

Evidences of mining operations were to be seen all along, but very few miners were at work as the water was still too high. A great deal of work had been done in following the pay dirt under the edge of several flats, this being the favorite work in high water or in cold weather. At one place on the south bank two parties of miners were at work in the face of the cut bank about 100 feet above the water, where they had evidently struck pay dirt of some kind. The bank had the appearance of reddish sand which had become very compact, without, however, turning into stone. Several mining machines, besides the ordinary dump box and grizzly, were seen at different places. A small steam engine which ran elevator cups was on dry ground at Hibbert's bar. Easton's machine was in the water at Anderson's landing on the Miners' flat. A short distance below the Big Island was another machine of unknown nature. The boat landed at a miner's shanty on the south side about a mile below the island, as the landing at the island was not good. C. W. Mathers took a photo of the miner and his shanty and also of the boat out in mid stream. The boat left the landing near the island about six o'clock and reached the lower ferry landing about seven, being favored, as on the trip up, with rain all the way. The only clear weather was while the party were landed. The view on the river at the island is very fine. The valley is wider than at points lower down and the banks slope back more gently. The island itself is low. The Stony Plain Indian reserve touches the river on the north side for about two miles below the island and includes a very pretty flat. Both banks of the river are timbered all along and no cultivation is to be seen; no sign of life except the miners' shanties and tents.

BASE BALL AT THE STURGEON.

On Thursday last, at the Sturgeon picnic took place one of the most interesting games of base ball ever played in the Edmonton district. The opposing teams were from Sturgeon and Edmonton respectively. When the hour set for the game arrived a drenching rain was in progress and the prospects were very gloomy. However, about three o'clock the rain ceased, the sun came out and in a few minutes the short wire grass on the ball ground was dry and the game was called. The teams lined up as follows: Sturgeon—S. Samis, p.; L. Samis, c.; B. Groat, s.; L. Hunter, 1b; Geo. Bull, 2b, G. Groat, 3b; F. Samis, 1f; A. Gibbard, r. f.; G. McKee, c. f. Edmonton—A. Patterson, p.; J. Jackson, c.; H. Woodward, s.; T. P. Carney, 1b; A. Pierce, 2b; E. Grierson, 3b; J. D. Harrison, 1f; J. H. McDonald, r. f.; J. A. Campbell, c. f. Frank Grey umpire. The home team had the choice of innings and sent Edmonton to the bat. They went out in one, two, three order without a base and Sturgeon came to bat, to hit the ball a little harder, but to go out just as promptly as their opponents had done without a run. The interest of both spectators and players became intense, for it was seen that the teams were well matched. In the second inning Sturgeon got two runs, Edmonton only one. From that time till near the end it was anybody's game, with Edmonton in the lead. In the fourth innings Sturgeon seemed rattled and Edmonton got 8 runs on them, but on coming to bat the Sturgeons returned the rattle with grace to the fielders and scored 5 runs which made the figures 9 to 14 in favor of Edmonton. In the fifth and sixth innings Sturgeon pulled up and Edmonton fell behind so that at the end of the sixth innings the score stood 15 to 16 in favor of Edmonton. According to the agreement the seventhinning would end the game. The visitors went to bat and Jackson made the only run, thus leaving Edmonton two runs ahead. The Sturgeons made a noble effort, at bat, hit the pitcher hard, got their bases full, Edmonton rattled, the ball lost, and crossed the home plate seven times before the third man went out, thus leaving the final score 17 to 22 in favor of Sturgeon. Good nature prevailed throughout, and the Edmonton boys express themselves as having been royally entertained by their opponents and hope that before long they can return the compliment in Edmonton and reverse the score. A hearty cheer was given by both teams, the umpire for his decided and impartial rulings on the game.

Calgary Tribune: In the Calgary registration district during the half year ending July 15th there were 116 births, 32 marriages, and 37 deaths. In the previous half year the births were 144, marriages 33, and deaths 87. Since 1874 the births were 1730, marriages 666, and deaths 733.

Nor-West Farmer: The object of ventilation is to keep the cellar cool and dry, but this often fails of being accomplished by a common mistake. A cool place should never be ventilated unless the air admitted is cooler than the air within, or is at least as cool or but a very little warmer. The warmer the air, the more moisture it holds, and the cooler the air the more moisture is condensed and precipitated. When a cool cellar is aired on a warm day, the entering air is chilled by cooler air with which it becomes mixed, the moisture is condensed and deposited on the cold walls, and the cellar becomes damp and mouldy. To avoid this the windows should only be opened at night, and late—the last thing before retiring. The cool air enters the apartment during the night. The windows should be closed before sunrise and shaded through the day. If the air of the cellar is damp it may be thoroughly dried by placing in it a peck of fresh lime in an open box, which will absorb about seven pounds, or more than three quarts, of water, and in this way a cellar or milk house may soon be dried, even in the hottest weather.

Why it Should be Supported.

In another column we publish the dates for the holding of the first Territorial Exhibition at Regina, the capital of the provisional districts of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Assiniboia, and from the untiring industry manifested by Lieut.-Governor Mackintosh, and the hearty response accorded the enterprise by the various agricultural societies and leading men generally, the enterprise should be crowned by complete success. The people of the Territories should give no uncertain sound. Many would have preferred an autumn exhibition, but that became an impossibility, in consequence of railway rolling stock being busy at that time, conveying stock to the large eastern exhibitions. To get very low rates for travel and free transport for bona fide exhibits, Manitoba was obliged to adopt a summer date, and Lieut.-Governor Mackintosh had no other recourse than to do likewise. The Executive Board of Reference, the Advisory Board and the Honorary Committee, will comprise leading men from all districts, while the prizes offered are from 30 to 40 per cent. in advance of the Manitoba list, aggregating over $19,000. The one cogent reason why every man interested in the future of the Territories should be sure to have his section represented, is that thousands who visit Regina from Manitoba, Eastern Canada and the Western States, will judge the district by the display made; hence it is of importance that there should be no holding back, no hesitation, no want of active interest and enthusiasm. The cost will be small and when we consider that a few days' vacation can be enjoyed for a very small expenditure, while all the Provincial districts will participate in a re-union, these reasons alone should prevail. The Governor-General has consented to open the exhibition, while several Lieut.-Governors as well as Governors of the Western States have signified their intention to be present. The programme of attractions is said to be admirable, while every precaution is being taken to provide visitors with cheap accommodation. The prize list is to be published shortly and will be replete with interesting matter besides that of a purely business nature.
